Race-Boots.com Karma Enduro eBay Charity auction

London. 5th November 2008

In October 2008, Chris Nurse and Robin Stalker joined a group of adventurers on west coast of southern India and successfully took part in the Karma Enduro. Each team competing in a 1950's style Hindustan Ambassador drove 2,000 kms across the Western Ghat mountain range and crossing the testing and diverse terrain of Goa, Kerala, Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. The aim of the motoring adventure being to raise at least £150,000 per annum to help fund the building and maintaining of a hospital for some of the most vulnerable people in the Palani Hill region of South India.

Chris and Robin are aiming to raise at least £10,000 in support of this worthy cause through sponsorship, donations and an online auction of sports memorabilia with our friends at eBay.

Items already donated by many of our friend and colleagues from the world of sport for our eBay auction include:
